

Freddy Silva tours: PORTALS OF ENGLAND

General Information, Conditions and Release of Liability.

Yes. This legalese is soooo boring. But it is necessary in this day and age when the odd individual just doesn't get the rules of engagement (otherwise known as 'How to Take Personal Responsibility in Public'). So, if you wish to join this tour, please do so in the spirit in which it is being offered by carefully reading and initialing each clause, and sign at the end. By doing so you agree to all of the following...

Health and Physical Ability: You are made aware that this tour requires a high level of physical fitness because it involves steep climbs and descents. And because activities involve walking for much of the day, every day, good stamina is essential. You hereby affirm that you accept the inherent risks involved in exploring sites of antiquity, and that you do not have any physical, emotional, or other disability that would create a hazard for yourself, or would become a distraction or burden on the guide and/or the other tour participants. Also bear in mind that some locations may not cater to vegan and gluten-free diets. Should you choose to disregard this clause and you are deemed physically unfit to take part, you will forfeit the tour, there will be no refund given, you shall not take further part, and no assistance will be provided to return you to your point of origin.

INITIAL _____

What is included in the tour price: Accommodations and breakfasts and their applicable taxes; tour vehicle and fuel; admission to listed tour sites; tour guide and driver; and one-way standard train ticket from Exeter St. David's to London Paddington station. Accommodations are chosen to provide participants with quality lodging, hospitality and service at reasonable cost. Some B&Bs may be a tad quirky and reflect local character, but they are clean and safe, and at least you'll talk about them when you get home. Registering couples: it is assumed you will be sharing the same bed. (Oh, stop sniggling.) Queen beds are requested, but on occasion, due to availability, or due to the smaller nature of English hotels, your room may come with a double, or twin beds. I do my best to ensure all advertised events are followed. However I reserve the right to alter the itinerary to adapt to changing circumstances (ie. hotel bankruptcy, site maintenance, inclement weather, etc) so that the tour goes smoothly. INITIAL _____

What is not included: Lunches, dinners, airfare, incidental expenditures, hotel extras, sites/features prior to the start and after the end of the scheduled tour. INITIAL _____

Payments: A non-refundable deposit of $500 is required to secure your place. Once your deposit and this form have been completed and signed and delivered to Freddy Silva, you will receive an email confirming your place. Payment of the outstanding balance is due and required at least three months before the start date of the tour. INITIAL _____

Cancellations, refunds: Your initial deposit represents your commitment to partake of this tour and is thus non-refundable under any circumstances. Should you cancel your booking after paying the remaining balance, but no less than 60 days prior to the start date of the tour, I will try to find a replacement for you, and if successful, I will refund your payment minus the deposit and any expenses incurred to myself. Should no replacement be found, any refund paid will reflect a debit for non-recoverable payments to hotels, rental car companies, etc., the deposit, and a fee to cover loss of income to myself. No refund shall be paid if you cancel your booking less than forty-five days prior to the start date of the tour. INITIAL _____

Insurance: To keep the cost of these tours down, you are responsible for making international travel arrangements. You are advised to buy trip cancellation insurance to recoup monies paid to Freddy Silva, and for any airfare and hotels you may have booked before and after the tour. For unforeseen circumstances, it is recommended that you enroll in personal accident and baggage insurance, available through travel agencies or online. All personal items are the sole responsibility of the owner. INITIAL_____
